

Zacharias K. Palios
Asst Professor, Education in Europe, HOU
E-mail: palios[at]eap.gr

Zacharias K. Palios received his PhD in Sociology of Education in 1988 from the University of Wales (Cardiff). He taught at the Faculty of Philosophy of the University of Crete from 1992 to 2009, while in 2010 he joined the teaching and research staff of the Faculty of Humanities of the Hellenic Open University, of which he has been a partner since 2005. His academic and research interests include the subjects of History and Sociology of Education and Sociology of Gender, as well as Continuing Education and Training. He has participated in several research projects and has supervised seven doctoral theses. He is the director of the Biographical Learning and Transformative Adult Education Laboratory of the Faculty of Humanities of the Hellenic Open University.

Selected Publications

1. Greek academics: Aspects of Anomy. Athens: Papazissis, 2024 . (In Greek)
2. Becoming Qualitative Researchers by Corine Glesne Translation into Greek – Editing with Koulaouzidis, G. Athens: Metaichmio 2018. (In Greek)
3. How tomorrow scientists value Science (with Paraskevopoulou E, et al). In European Journal of Alternative Education Studies. Vol. 2, Issue 1, 2017.
4. Research Ethics, in Research Methodology in Social Sciences and Education, edited by I. Pyrgiotakis et al. Athens: Pedio. 2015. (In Greek).
5. Training, Employment and Educational Policies. In, Examining the Relationship of Vocational training and employment, edited by N. Fotopoulos. Athens: KANEP. General Confederation of Greek Workers. 2013. (In Greek).