

Evangelos Tzoukas

Ph.d in Sociology, Member of the Collaborating Teaching Staff of the Hellenic Open University

E-mail: tzoukas.evangelos@ac.eap.gr

Vangelis Tzoukas is Member of the Collaborating Teaching Staff of the Hellenic Open University. In recent years he was Teaching Fellow in the Department of Political Science and in the Department of Philosophy and Social Studies (University of Crete). He studied Sociology in Panteion University of Social and Political Studies (Athens). His dissertation thesis is titled The Warlords of EDES in Epirus. Locality and Political Integration. A revised edition of his phd was published in 2013 by Hestia Publications (in Greek). His second book is titled The Specter of Nazism. The Mythology of the Third Reich and was published in 2016 by Hestia Publications (in Greek). His third book is entitled EDES 1941-1945. A Reassessment (Alexandreia, 2017, in Greek). One of his books is entitled Guerrilla Warfare. Revolutionaries, Partisans, Fighters (EAP, 2019, in Greek). He has written many articles and books on matters of Greek and European History and on sociology of violence.

Selected Publications

1. "Discourse on Politics in the 'discourse' of organized football fans. The case of Panathinaikos", in G. Zaimakis-N. Kotaridis (eds.), Football and Fan Communities. Rivalries and Politics of Identity, Plethron, Athens, 2013, pp. 259-272.
2. (With Orsalia-Eleni Cassavetes): "Are you organized to die for its greatness?": football, fans and violence in the commercial cinema of the 1980s. The case of the film Hooligans", in N. Tsingilis-D. Mastrogiannakis (eds.), Media and Sports. Images, Rhetoric and Representations, Zygos, Thessaloniki, 2020, pp. 313-335.
3. (With Diamantis Mastrogiannakis) Greek Professional Football and Fan Violence: Uncontrolled Hooligans or Ineffective Response Policies?», Sports and Society, v. 2 (2023), pp. 83-90.