

Eleftheria Manta

Assistant Professor/Modern Greek History/School of History & Archaeology AUTH

Email to: manta.eleftheria@ac.eap.gr

Eleftheria Manta is a graduate of the School of History & Archaeology of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. She completed her post-graduate studies in Modern History at the same School, in 2005. She was Research Associate of the Institute for Balkan Studies (1992-2008) and, later, Director of that same Institute of Thessaloniki (2008-2011). She has been member of the academic staff of the Aristotle University since 2011 and member of the teaching staff of the Hellenic Open University since 2019.

Her research interests include Greek-Albanian Relations, Balkan History, Political, Social and Economic History of Modern Greece, and Teaching History.

She has been coordinator and member of the research group of ESPA, ELIDEK, Information Society, and Regional Operation Program “Central Macedonia” research projects.

She speaks English, Italian, French, and Albanian.

Selected Publications

1. The Greek Minority in Albania. A Documentary Record (1921-1993) (in cooperation with B. Kondis), Institute for Balkan Studies, Thessaloniki 1994.
2. Muslim Albanians in Greece. The Chams of Epirus (1923-2000), Institute for Balkan Studies, Thessaloniki 2008.
3. Aspects of the Life of the Greek Minority in Albania (in cooperation with S. Vouri), Center of Intercultural and Migratory Studies of the University of Crete, Rethymno 2007.
4. The Education System for the Greek Minority in Albania during the Interwar Period, Kyriakides Bros Publ., Thessaloniki 2010.
5. Poverty and Charity in Thessaloniki (1930-1935) (in cooperation with D. Kontogeorgis and Ch. Mandatzis), University Studio Press, Thessaloniki 2016.