

DAISSy–HOU invites you to online courses for Smart and Resilient Communities Officers

The DAISSy Research Group of the Hellenic Open University \(HOU\) announces the launch of the pilot phase of the short-term online courses for engineers and procurers/designers of smart and resilient communities.

The courses were developed within the framework of the European project “SMARCO - Blueprint for SMART Communities’ Skills Development in Europe”, currently undergoing by DAISSy–HOU as the Greek partner. The main objective of the SMARCO project is the development of two new occupational profiles and the corresponding training programmes, in order to equip students and professionals with the necessary skills, so as to build smarter and more resilient communities across Europe.

- 📌 The estimated study duration for each module is 4 hours, and learners are offered the possibility of self-paced learning.
- 📌 Expressions of interest are submitted through the registration form [here].
- 📌 Detailed information about the contents of the programme and the online courses, is available here: <https://smarco.eu/learning-programmes/#courses>

SMARCO is a four-year project, funded by the Erasmus+ programme of the European Union. It is implemented by a consortium of twenty-two (22) partners from fourteen (14) EU Member States (Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Greece, Ireland, Spain, Italy, Cyprus, Portugal, Norway, the Netherlands, Hungary, France and Romania), with DAISSY–HOU as the Greek partner. The Research Group participates in all SMARCO deliverables, being responsible for the design of the training programme, as well as for the development of both the educational content of the Higher Education curricula and the e-learning platforms.
