

Short CV

Georgios Ch. Kouzas studied Philology and Folklore Studies at the School of Philosophy of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (NKUA). During his studies, he was awarded scholarships by the Greek State Scholarships Foundation (IKY), the Alexander S. Onassis Public Benefit Foundation, and the EU-funded NSRF programme Support for Researchers with an Emphasis on Young Researchers.

He is Associate Professor of Urban Folklore in the Department of Philology, School of Philosophy, at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, where he has taught Folklore Studies at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels since 2016. He serves as Principal Investigator of four research projects at NKUA and, in 2025, received the University's Research Excellence Award in recognition of his overall research achievements. Since 2025, he has been Director of the Department of Philology's Postgraduate Programme Folk Culture and Literature – G. A. Megas. He is also a member of the Adjunct Academic Staff at the Hellenic Open University.

He has taught Folklore Studies and/or conducted research at a large number of university departments and research institutions. He has presented papers at international academic conferences in the United Kingdom, France, Germany, Italy, Russia, Finland, Portugal, Turkey, Bulgaria, Serbia, Romania, Latvia, and other countries.

He is the author of seven books, has edited or co-edited seven collective volumes and conference proceedings, and has published 80 scholarly studies on folk culture in Greek, English, and French.
